This project incorporates Dave Pelz's Elements of Practice into the green for training success. The upper left hand side was built with a 4% to a 2% slope replicating slope/dome/hill hybrids and built peaks and valleys through undulations with the Dave Pelz GreenMaker™ Putting Green System. These elements of practice allow the USD Coyote Team to replicate their short game indoors throughout the year.
"When you go outside you feel fresh. You haven't been golfing all winter. It used to be a lot different short game going out for the first tournament, but now that we've got the Coyote Cave, it's going to be a big help for us."

- Seal, player from 2016